Using Web of Science to Find “Cited By” Articles

Have you found a great article and want to see if other researchers have cited it? Follow these steps:

Example article:

Preoperative therapeutic exercise in frail elderly scheduled for total hip replacement: a randomized pilot trial
CLINICAL REHABILITATION Volume: 24 Issue: 10 Pages: 901-910 DOI: 10.1177/0269215510371427
Published: OCT 2010

Go to the Web of Science database and type (or paste) the article title in the search box:

Search result:

List of articles that cited the Hoogeboom article:

Click on the Get it @ GVSU button to locate full text.